Modern Pharmacy

Do you fear old age?...Many people do...Statistically, the number of years each of us is likely to live is pretty well established...What is not established is the proportion of years that will be spent in vital living and those spent nursing infirmities of old age...The big news is that so-called old age need not happen to you...You have a good chance to stay middleaged for life...I say middle-aged - not young...We cannot recapture youth, but there are now ways to stretch out and prolong those wonderful middle years throughout the balance of your life...Most of us want this, once we have tasted the enjoyment, the appreciation, and understanding of life that comes in the years after forty.....

All-Stars Beat Zappers as Girls' Basketball Season Ends Here

The champion Zappers were defeated by the All-Stars as action concluded for the Recreation Department's Girls Basketball Program.

The Zappers, who had easily finished first during regular play with a 5-1 record, were no match for the combined scoring power of Debbie Higgins of the Royals and Kathy Henderson and Caryl Copland of the Six Pack.

The game started slowly, with the Zappers holding a 6-4 lead after one quarter. Although fouling frequently during the second quarter, Kathy Henderson was able to hold Jan Wilson scoreless during the second quarter as the All-Stars took command 12-8.

The All-Stars continued to run away with the game during the third quarter, with Kathy Henderson and Caryl Copland each scoring four points. Sue Sullivan's two points were the only Sizzlers' scoring in the third period as the All-Stars lead was increased to 20-10. The teams traded baskets in the final quarter as the All-Stars coasted to a 26-16 victory.

The final standings of the teams after the regularly scheduled play found the Zappers in front with a 5-1 record. The Royals and the Three B's tied for second with records of 3-3, while the Six Pack, with a win during the final week, finished at 1-5.

Jan Wilson of the Zappers took individual scoring honors with 88 points. Debbie Higgins with 59, Susie Sullivan with 55, and Katny Henderson and Caryl Copland with 42 each round out the top five scores.

SCORING LEADERS: Jan Wilson (Zappers) 88, Debbie Higgins (Royals) 59, Susie Sullivan (Zappers) 50, Kathy Henderson (Six Pack) 42, Jane Phillips (Three B's) 28, Anne Phillips (Zappers) 27, Ginny Melvin (Royals) 22, Barbara Goodman (Three B's) 19, Debbie Belitsos (Royals) 17, Marny Ashburne (Three B's) 16, Susan Ballard (Zappers) 16, Lisa Haven (Zappers) 16.

Goodmans Compete in National Badminton Meet

Fran and Bill Goodman of Sagamore road are competing in a closed National Badminton Tournament in Omaha, Nebraska starting March 30 and continuing until April 6.

Mr. Goodman will play in the senior men's doubles and the regular men's doubles; he and Mrs. Goodman will play in the senior mixed doubles. They are rated fourth in the country in veterans' mixed doubles and Mr. Goodman is a State men's doubles champion (with Bruce Mahler of Needham) and a State mixed doubles champion (with Mrs. Sondra Fogarty of Duxbury). He also is a veterans' men's doubles title holder with Jack Cooper of Rhode Island.

Bill Goodman has been playing badminton for some 30 years, starting as a teenager in Wayland. Mrs. Goodman began to play, "When I met Bill at college in 1952." He went to Harvard, she Radcliffe. He's the really good player, she says, and plays tennis too, but no longer in competition. "I'm just an also-ran. I just enjoy playing," Mrs. Goodman sums up.

They have three children, all badminton players. Barbara, 15, goes to Wellesley High School; Billy, 14, is at Wellesley Junior High and Nancy, 10, goes to Upham.

Mr. Goodman is a vice president of John P. Chase in Boston, security analysts and investment counselors. He is presently completing his term as president of the American Badminton Association.

If the Goodmans do well in Nebraska, they can look forward to competing in a subsequent open tournament with international players.

1960 Wellesley Graduate, Mayor of Luxemburg to Lecture Here

The first woman mayor of the 1000-year old capital city of the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg, the Hon. Colette M. Flesch -- scholar, Olympic fencer, and a 1960 graduate of Wellesley College -- will speak at the College on Wednesday, April 5. She returns to Wellesley as the first Centennial lecturer in a series of events leading to the 100th anniversary of the College in 1975. The public is invited to hear Mayor Flesch, who will speak in the auditorium of the Jewett Arts Center on the campus in Wellesley at 8 p.m.

Mayor Flesch assumed the six-year office in January 1970. Before entering politics she served as cultural affairs assistant in the American Embassy in Luxembourg from 1963-64, and on the staff of the Council of Ministers of the European communities (the Common Market) in Brussels in 1967. In 1968 she left Brussels to seek election to Luxembourg's Parliament as a member of the Democratic party. The youngest person to gain a seat in Parliament, shortly afterwards she was appointed one of the Grand Duchy's members of the European Parliament in Strasbourg, France. In 1969, she won a seat on the Luxembourg City Council and shortly after was elected mayor.

WELLELEY COLLEGE GRADUATE Colette M. Flesch, the first woman mayor of the 1000-year old capital city of Luxembourg, will speak at the College on Wednesday, April 5 at 8 p.m. in Jewett Auditorium on the campus in Wellesley. The public is invited to hear Mayor Flesch.

Although Miss Flesch broke precedent by her election as the first woman mayor of Luxembourg City, women rulers are not new in the Grand Duchy. The Grand Duchess Charlotte ruled the country under a constitutional monarchy for 45 years before her abdiction in 1964 in favor of her son, the reigning Grand Duke Jean. Her sister, Grand Duchess Marie Adelaide, ruled from 1912-1919 and their mother, Maria Anna, was regent from 1908-1912. Mayor Flesch majored in political science at Wellesley where she received the B.A. degree and was elected to membership in Phi Beta Kappa. In 1961 she was granted the M.A. degree in international affairs from the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, Tufts University, and in 1962 received its Master of Arts in Law and Diplomacy (M.A.L.D.). She has also held a grant from the Netherlands for study at The Hague Academy of International Law. Besides a career in politics and diplomacy, Miss Flesch is a member of Luxembourg's Olympic fencing team, and has participated in the Olympic Games in Rome, Tokyo, and Mexico City. She is a Trustee Member of American Field Service International Scholarships. Prior to entering Wellesley College she attended high school in Springfield, Vermont as an AFS student and served as an AFS volunteer. In Luxembourg she founded the AFS Returnee Committee.

During her stay at the College, which begins April 3, Miss Flesch will meet informally with faculty and students from the political science and economic departments, with officers of the College Government Association, and with members of the administration. She will attend classes and special events on campus, and will be entertained in the Tower Court dormitory where she spent her student days.

The first Centennial Lecture at Wellesley is sponsored by the Wilson Fund at the College.

Explorers to Meet In Washington

The first annual Explorer contingent from the Wellesley, Newton, and Weston area will attend the second annual Explorer Congress in Washington, D.C. on April 12-16. This contingent (the largest from New England) will represent the Explorer posts in this area at the conference.

The 2,500 Explorer presidents will elect national officers for the 400,000-member organization and give the presidents training on how to run a better post.

Heading the second annual Explorer Congress are President Richard M. Nixon, honorary chairman; HUD Secretary George Rommey, and James S. Kemper, Jr., president of Kemper Insurance. Last year Mr. Nixon spoke to the Explorers on the White House lawn and plans are being made for the Explorers to meet him again.

Highlights of the Congress will be an opening address by Secretary Romney; a rousing campaign and nominating convention headed by a U.S. Congesssional leader; and various seminars and discussions with experts in areas of interest to young adults.

Civil Defense will Broadcast Road Race Positions April 1

You can't tell the runners without the help of Civil Defense...the runners being the fleet of foot who will compete in this Saturday's annual Recreation Department 9.6 mile road race in Wellesley and on that day the Wellesley Civil Defense Communications Section will be out in force to "call them as they see them."

Under the direction of Marshall H. Cannell, WA1DMC, Wellesley C.D. Communications Officer, 25 Sheridan road, Wellesley C.D. will operate six short wave stations along the 9.6 mile race route. The permanent Civil Defense station at the Police station will also be manned.

"All Wellesley residents are encouraged to bring a chair to the high school to watch and hear the race from start to finish," said Mr. Cannell. "we will flash numbers and positions to the crowd at the Senior High from the beginning to the end."

For many years Wellesley's Civil Defense Communication's Section has been manned by a staff of volunteer, licensed amateur radio operators, experienced in the art of radio communication. In addition to Mr. Cannell, the Wellesley C.D. Communications staff includes Roger P. Smith, WIEOA, 7 Berkeley road; Albert Graf, WIOOP, 319 Worcester street; Walter E. Lenk, K1YTY, C.D. Publicity Officer, 22 Priscilla circle; Dr. William H. Emerson, WA1EVD, 115 Westgate road; Ludwig Fasolino, WA1DRC, 34 Pine Plain road; John B. Porter, K1PRB, 49 Suffolk road; Jay Jones, K1EQA, 123 Worcester street; Charles Chabot, WA1GBF, 11 Trinity court; and Robert C. Dale, K1UDI, 86 Westgate road.

Founded in 1951, the Wellesley Civil Defense volunteer group has since manned and serviced 11 short wave fixed and mobile radio stations strategically located within the Town. Since 1963 Civil Defense radio drills and tests have been carried on every Sunday morning without interruption.

In addition to providing instant radio communication in case of a local emergency, Wellesley Civil Defense can offer its radio system to other Town Departments. For the past four years Wellesley C.D. has provided rapid communications for the Veteran's Day parade. Assistance to other Town Departments has provided the opportunity to expand its service to the Town and its citizens. Mr. Cannell hopes other Town Departments may be able to fit the Wellesley C.D. radio system into their programs.

George P. deCoen, Wellesley Civil Defense Director has high praise for his group of amateur radio operators. He has said "their interest and support for our Civil Defense programs will again insure an effective communication operation during this year's road race"

We do not promise that Agrico will make you love to mow your lawn.

If you don't like to mow the lawn, we don't promise using Agrico will make you like mowing any better.

But we do promise Agrico will give you a greener, thicker lawn. And even if the mowing isn't any easier, at least your lawn will look good when you finish.

The iron in Agrico's balance of nutrients will give your grass extra green color. And Agrico's "extended release" formula will make your grass stay green weeks longer.

If you've got to do all that work, have something to be proud of when you finish. Have a thick, even carpet of green. Use Agrico.

$5.45 covers 5000 sq. ft.

All we promise is a greener, thicker lawn.
